OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 15, 1866.

The elections in four great States have transpired since my last letter, but I need not announce to you the result. The telegraph is by far too quick for my letters, but it does not condescend to state particulars. To sum up the result thus far, the Republicans gain one Congressman. It is, taking all the circumstances into the account, the greatest political victory on record. The personal and political treachery of Andrew Johnson has no parallel in this country, and it is unerring that the party which he attempted to betray so soon recovered from his treachery. It is nearly six months since the purposes of the President were clearly made known, and the party has achieved a tremendous victory.

The President holds 20,000 offices in his hands in the State of Pennsylvania alone, yet he was unable to reduce the majority of the Republicans in that State, except a few thousands in Philadelphia, and there the meanest, foulest work was done by Gideon Welles of the Navy Department, Welles is a venerable old fick-spittle. He loves office so well that he is willing to act as the tool of a bad man, even in the betrayal of his political friends. He worked most faithfully for his master in Philadelphia, but although he reduced the Republican majorities in the city, he did not accomplish a thing by his dirty conduct. Two Republican members of Congress are gained in the State, and the State Legislature is overwhelmingly Republican so that the President's bosom friend, Cowan, is defeated for the Senate!

The President is a disappointed man. He has been surrounded for months with a set of incorrigible liars who have kept the truth from him, and when the facts came to be known it was a sore trial to his temper. According to some of his intimate friends he was "very calm" over the bad news; but if this is a truthful statement it is the first time in years he has been calm over a bit of adverse news.

The correspondents are now quarreling over his future policy. Some say that he will go in for the Constitutional amendment as a finality. He will, if he is wise, but what instances has he ever given of his ability to do a wise act? It is far more likely that he will make a new proposition to Congress and the South—one that will let down his pride quietly to the ground, and at the same time offend the more extreme radicals. It is now certain that if he shall accept the Constitutional amendment, he will find such men as Mr. Sumner, Mr. Boutwell, Mr. Stevens and some others arrayed against him, for they deemed impartial suffrage as a condition of settlement. This would suit the President, as he wants nothing to do with these able radicals. He hates them a good deal more than he does the devil, and would rather be defeated and go into private life, generally hated, than to act with them. But if he would come out boldly for the amendment, as a finality, and advise the rebel States to accept it, he would triumph. On that platform he can regain ascendency with the Northern and Western people. I think there is no doubt of it, for a large majority of the members of Congress feel pledged before the people to the amendment as a finality.

After all, the South takes it, it settles forever three or four things. First, the debt is secured; second, the rebel debt cannot be assumed; third, the worst rebels are disfranchised for a number of years, and fourth, (and lastly), it secures to the North and West the control of Congress for many years to come; at least, till the National Debt is extinguished.

And talking of the debt, reminds me of Secretary McCulloch's recent success in paying it off. He seems now to be more anxious to do that than to keep gold down. Some people assert that he has become a convert to the theory of inflation. I don't believe it, but facts look like it. Gold keeps going up, yet the Secretary is very contented, so that he can pay off the debt. Is he going on in this course? This is what the gold speculators would be glad to know, for they are hopeful of a sudden smash-up, or rather smash-down in gold. One of our journals speaks in this wise of McCulloch:

"Secretary McCulloch announces that for two months he has paid off the public debt at the rate of a million dollars a day, thus reducing it sixty millions. For this he is highly praised even by some of the most determined of his political foes, the Secretary of the Treasury being the most bigoted and narrow-minded of the President's supporters. They speak of what he has done as if he had created the means he employed in paying the demands against the nation! Such language is the very uttermost of childishness. The Secretary is no more entitled to praise for what he has done than the paying teller of a bank is entitled to praise for paying out a million of dollars on a given day. We should as soon think of calling such a teller a great and skillful financier as of attributing greatness and financial skill to the Secretary of the Treasury, the great financier is a man who invents means of payment, who calls forth the national resources and substitutes wealth for poverty, and who displaces bankruptcy by credit."

There is a good deal of truth in that, but in these days it is rather soothing for a public officer to be honest! Give credit to McCulloch for that. He is honest in financial matters, and as stupid fool in politics. I am inclined, however, to believe him honest in his politics, bad as they are.

An enterprising fellow has been humbugging the Philadelphia Ledger and the Northern people with a story of contemplated treason on the part of the President. The canard was adroitly arranged, and the parties to it made a good deal of money. It was an infamous offence, but it will go unpunished. I still have my doubts as to the President's agency in the matter. It looks to me very much as if at some time the President had talked to his low associates (for he has low associates here) in a manner that warranted the mischievous statement. It came from "Druid," the Munchausen story-teller of the New York World, during the war. He has the reputation here of being a regular "Gily Gammon," and in addition to that of being a great liar. It was a queer business throughout, and nobody can make me believe that leading gold speculators in Philadelphia and New York were not in the secret. It has had one good effect. The President has had an opportunity to see how the country would take any treason against the Government on his part. The New York Evening Post, which did not credit the story from the outset, stated that if it was true, the people would know how to dispose of Mr. Johnson, and they would make quick work of him and his confederates. I don't believe that the President or Mr. Seward is in any mood to trifle with the feelings of the loyal people of the North. Everybody is now looking to see what the Congress will do. The Springfield Republican, which is very conservative for the latitude of Massachusetts, has the following:

"The flaming speeches of the stumpers will very abs

The Daily Oregonian.

TUESDAY MORNING, NOV. 20, 1866.

Pap.

Last summer, the chief anxiety of the Oregon Copperheads seemed to be to "support the President." They did not ask to have their facial openings placed to the public lacteal fender—they did not demand pap; they preferred not to be invited to take pap: if they did hope anything and wish anything, nay, ardently desire anything, more than another, they did hope and wish and ardently desire that nobody would suspect them of being so mercenary and hungry as to take pap if offered ever so temptingly. The mission of ye Copperhead was to be a martyr to the public—bearing the public burdens, sustaining the public credit, sweating out the public taxes, receiving on their bared heads the public's injuries, forgiving and conciliating the public's enemies—all that the public had to do, to be, to suffer, was also what ye Copperhead delighted to do, to be and to suffer, save only, to take public pap. Come what might, he could never bring himself into that state of mind which would not, instantly and indignantly, reject the the slightest intimation of public pap, in connection with the idea of "supporting the President." This period of self-abnegation, of martyrdom, was last summer, when the President had not yet gone round the imaginary boundaries of an imaginary hole; when he had not yet clearly discovered that there were traitors at both ends of the line; when he was not yet able to discern with the naked eye that Congress really did hang as it were on a verge; when it had not yet fully occurred to his mind that traitors were the infernalest, villainous set of scoundrels and, at the same time, the best, good-natured est and most trustworthy patriots; when he had not yet fully committed dastardly murder upon his own fame; when pap was not yet for the enemies of the country; when pap was not yet to be the reward of vile traitors for their vile treason; when Copperheads were yet foxes and pap was yet "sour grapes."

That time has passed. Times change and men change with them. The President now sees clearly that he had lived five years under a great mistake; now he sees that treason was a virtue and only loyalty was a crime; he has swung round his circle; he has found the original idea that pap was invented for Democrats, and has advertised for the owners, lost, strayed or stolen; the grapes are no longer inaccessible and have lost their acidity; the foxes are leaping in the wildest delirium for the lower clusters, clambering and tumbling one upon another, smacking their greedy chops with a gusto which could never have been born of anything less than six years of starvation.

Pap has been restored to that elevated place in Copperhead favor, that it was want to occupy. Pap is no longer offensive to the smell or the taste of ye Copperhead. Throw pap in his eye it titillates the optic nerve with blissful thrills and opens up vista upon vista of perquisites, greenback stealings and happiness.

If there is an individual who can show us a Copperhead now, who won't take pap, we desire that individual to oblige us by pointing out such a Copperhead. It is not Hopson, now, is it? Has or has not that modest Copperhead, ex-Gov. Whitenker, petitioned the noble Tribune for the pap that dribbles through the Surveyor-General's office? Does Col. J. K. Kelly, who fell more than his length short of the State crib, desire the pap which flows from the people through the revenue teat? Has he asked for it? Do any of the Copperhead editors utter fearful mutterings of official vengeance and offish carnage and dropping of official heads into the official waste basket? If so, do such mutterings come from men seeking pap or from men who would spurn pap? Do any of them exhibit impatience at pap long-delayed and insinuate that the present sumberers of official fattening cribs should resign out of self-respect? What do they mean; pap or no pap?

Pap now divides, to some extent, Copperhead anxiety with the "nigger," but pap, being a consideration which goes to a Copperhead heart, through all obstacles, with more directness than any other, may yet get ahead of the "nigger" in a fair race. Cuffee is a good subject but pap is better. The rain of pap has begun. The great pap-dispenser is only waiting to choose the mouths into which it shall flow. Hold ye, your mouths wide, Copperheads, and swallow fast, for Congress may reverse the machine, stop the supply and plunge you into lamentations great again.

The California vagabond says in the Herald that the leading editorials in this paper are stolen from Eastern exchanges. In making this assertion the facetious fopdoodle simply lies. Of course if it were true he would let no opportunity escape of exposing it. But we shall be just toward him. Nobody supposes that any one save the "teacher" himself—a querulous old dullard in the last stages of malignant decrepitude—ever has a hand in preparing the editorials of the Herald. It is quite unnecessary for him to boast of his "literary reputation" so often as he does, for no discriminating person can fail to recognize the flat stolidity of the leading articles that appear in his paper as his own leading characteristic. All will agree that nobody else could write such a deal of skimble-skamble stuff. He need give himself no concern about the opinions of others in regard to himself, as he will forever remain his own admirer, without a rival. But he is likely never to find his proper place in literature, as these times can boast of no one who has the dramatic genius to fix him forever in the gallery of celebrities along with Bobadil and Parolles. He is one of those characters who will be, fortunate enough to be forgotten, "carent quia vate."

The Albany Democrat is publishing a series of lectures by Rev. H. H. Spaulding, relating in part to the early Oregon Missions, but chiefly to himself. This is very well, and as nobody is compelled to read them, of course nobody objects to their publication. They would never have received this notice from us had not the Democrat falsely asserted that the lectures were offered this paper and that we declined to publish them because the lecturer reflects severely on Mr. Lincoln and his Cabinet. Now we did not know that those compositions had anything to say about Mr. Lincoln. We did not know what they contained, except that they were made up for the most part of an interminable deal of stuff about the writer himself. And as we did not want to be bored, we did not publish the lectures. We are of opinion that a newspaper can be better filled than with a minute private history of a private individual.

STATE ITEMS.

A candy manufactory is operation at Albany.

Wheat is quoted at 62½ cents per bushel at Albany; oats at 25 to 30 cents.

The Rackle & Thomas wagon road over the Blue Mountains is said to average a toll revenue of nearly $3,000 per month.

John Traverse, late one of the firm publishing the State Rights Democrat, has withdrawn from the concern. The firm now consists of M. H. Abbott and M. W. Brown.

A correspondent at McMinnville furnishes us the following statistical information about that thriving village: It has 3 stores, 3 blacksmith shops, 2 wagon shops, 1 photographic artist, 1 silversmith, 1 shoe shop, 2 doctors, 2 churches, 1 flouring mill, about 300 inhabitants, and no licensed grog or beer saloon. It has one college in a thriving condition, with an average attendance in the winter of 140 students.

"One night last week," says the Albany Democrat, "during a rather severe blow in Albany, the Democratic flag pole fell to the ground, and was broken asunder in several places." One fine day, week before last, during a rather severe blow which extended over twelve States, the Democratic party fell to the ground and went to pieces. Two fragments only remain visible—one sticking in Copperhead mire in Delaware and the other in Maryland.

DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15.—The Chamber of Commerce held a meeting on Monday last, when several committees made their reports, which were adopted by the Chamber. The committee on the China mail service, submitted a petition to Congress asking that body to allow the Steamship Company to drop the port of Honolulu from their service without the additional obligation of another trip yearly to China, and that thereon the subsidy for mail service to the Hawaiian Island, be increased from $500,000 to $1,000,000 yearly, which sum will be required to enable the responsible company to establish an effective line of steamships between that important point and the United States. They request that the present law is oppressive to the steamship company, as it will require an expenditure of $130,000 and an extra steamer for the extra trip, and the company can better afford to touch at Honolulu under the terms of the present arrangement. This programme is found to increase the length of passage from seven to eight days, and to make thirteen trips. The days of sailing would have to be frequently changed as that the matter would be inconstant and uncertain. Instead of proving a convenience to merchants and the community, the extra trip would be a series of constant annoyance.

The trial of J. Golden and D. Cosgrove commenced in the U. S. District Court on Monday last, was concluded yesterday. The above named parties, together with W. G. Walker, Revenue Agent of this coast, and J. J. Pennypacker, formerly Assistant Assessor, were indicted by the U. S. Grand Jury for aiding in the concealment of spirits with a view of defrauding the Government, and the Jury without leaving their seats rendered a verdict of "not guilty" after the rendering of which, a nolpros was entered in the case of Walker and Pennypacker.

In the suit of D. Casey et al. vs. O. M. Clayes, it transpired that Clayes had destroyed the agreement for the purchase of the Flag, which had been drawn up by his counsel. The plaintiff then sought to have the contract by oral evidence, but under the pleadings as they stood, the court held that such proof could not be taken. The plaintiff was then allowed ten days in which to amend his complaint and the court adjourned.

Having been charged that first officer Nolan, of the steamer Golden Age, had abused Ward, the seaman who committed suicide on shipboard, an investigation was held before Commissioner Sullivan, which proved positively the contrary state of facts. It was shown that Nolan had been kind to deceased, and the complaint was of course dismissed.

The following dividends were paid to-day: Bank of California, $50,000; California Steam Navigation Co., $50,000; Yellow Jacket, $20,000; Crown Point, $40,000; Imperial, $32,000. Total, $232,000. This will add nearly a quarter of a million to the circulation. Of Yellow Jacket, $16,100 is payable in New York; $8,000 in Nevada, and the balance here. Of Crown Point, $30,000 is payable in New York; and of Imperial, $32,000 in the same city.

Golden & Cosgrove, indicted by the United States grand jury for conspiring liquor in connection with the Brooks' whisky seizure case, were tried in the United States District Court yesterday, and acquitted. Not guilty were entered in the cases of Walker and Pennypacker.

The suit of Dr. Isaac Bowell vs. W. S. Moss, to recover $10,000 damages for the publication of an alleged libel in the columns of the Examiner, will be on trial in the Fourth District Court on the 30th inst.

About half past one o'clock a young man named Butler committed suicide by shooting himself in the mouth. He had been under bail for some time and confined to his house with a disease of the lungs, which was supposed to be incurable.

Judge Pratt to-day granted Marian Finn a divorce from her husband, Jas. Finn.

The Chamber of Commerce has appointed Prof. Wm. A. Blake, Oliver Haywood and Dr. J. S. D. Hinckle special committee to represent the Chamber at the World's Fair at Paris, next year.

Shipping.

Arrived—Nov. 15th, schooner Oriental, from San Pedro.

Sailed—Nov. 15th, clipper Ann Mary, Cork; steamer Moses Taylor, San Juan; brig Commodore, Melbourne.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 17.—Judge Pratt to-day granted Ellen Dodson a divorce from her husband J. Dodson. Judge Sawyer granted Lambert Menant a divorce from his wife Angelina Menant, on the ground of adultery. Judge Dwindle also granted Mary Scully a divorce from Daniel Scully, on the same ground.

Henry L. Evegne, a liquor dealer, has filed his petition in insolvency. His liabilities are $30, assets nihil.

Richard Baldreth and Antonia Lanor, have been discharged from their debts by a decree of the county court.

Capt. Thomas, of the bark Camilla, was yesterday arrested on a charge of beating a seaman.

Wm. Lonely was arrested about ten days ago, charged with the murder of a man in Mono county, who has appealed to Judge Pratt for relief on a writ of habeas corpus. Judge Pratt refused, and Lonely was yesterday taken in custody and after being placed in the catabooza, became so violent as to require a straight jacket. He was formerly attached to the 5th Infantry, C. V., and was discharged from the insane asylum on the 14th inst. as cured.

The Sierra Mammoth Company, of Sierra county, has filed its certificate of incorporation; capital stock, $300,000.

Francisco Soriano was tried in the 4th District Court yesterday on an indictment for manslaughter for the killing of Juan Ygnesias on Kearney street some months since. The testimony showed that the defendant only acted in self-defence. Soriano himself testified that the knife was held in the hand of deceased, and that the fatal stab was given when the defendant was struggling to deprive deceased of his weapon. A large number of citizens of the highest respectability testified to the good character of Soriano. The former was a captain of artillery in the Mexican liberal army; was taken prisoner and sent to France, and escaped thence to Spain, whence he worked his passage on a vessel to this country. The case was given to the jury at ten o'clock last evening, and at midnight they returned a verdict of not guilty.

Some considerable excitement has existed for several days past among the sailors congregating in this port on account of a supposed attempt to reduce the rates of seaman's wages. Four crews shipped here to-day. The sailors turned out several hundred strong and marched through the principal business streets for the purpose of showing their strength and unity of sentiment and action in keeping up the rates of wages, and the sympathy of the publics in their behalf.

Mark Twain departs for the east on Monday to attend to the publication of a book on the Sandwich Islands, and probably to try lecturing in a larger field.

The home of Vincent Peralta, situated about three miles back of Oakland, was destroyed by fire this morning. The fire took place at 3 o'clock A. M., and consumed the house, furniture and out buildings, valued at about $10,000, upon which there was no insurance. The loser is one of the oldest residents in California, being about 70 years old. The house was built over 50 years ago, and was one of the relics of Spanish building that of late have continued to remain intact in California.

Money Report.

The price of gold in New York yesterday was 142¾, and sterling 168¾@169. Legal tenders are 70¾@71 buying and 71¾ selling.

Letter from Canyon City.

CANYON CITY, Oregon, Nov. 4th, 1866.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

As His Excellency, Gov. Woods, and our worthy representatives in the Legislature have been making laudable efforts for the suppression of Indian hostilities in Eastern Oregon, we send up our united thanks and hope they may meet with speedy and signal success. We cannot, however, quite endorse the policy of the Government in sending more armed Indians among us, even though seemingly friendly. They (the Indians (are a treacherous race, and who knows that they may not turn their arms against us, and betray us into the hands of our known enemies. Again, it has been demonstrated that infantry is not the thing to pursue and chastise these thieves and marauders. They are good equestrians and strategists, and always manage to evade any force of infantry sent against them; yet with these facts on record, a company of infantry has been ordered from Fort Stellacoom to Canyon City, and a company of cavalry to supply at Fort Stellacoom. Would it not have been better, financially and practically, to have ordered the cavalry direct to Canyon City, where they are mostly needed? We do not wish to criticise the acts of the military authorities, for in one respect, we accept the same position of the maid, who, praying for a husband, cried: "Good Lord, send anybody;" but we certainly desire the best and most expeditious way of getting rid of these unfriendly neighbors.

OUR MINES

Are rich and extensive, comprising the following districts, viz: Granite, Burnt River Olive, Vincent, Elk Creek, Dixie, Marysville, Canyon City and John Day, all of which are included within the bounds of Grant county. In addition to the above, we have a cinnabar lode, which is represented to be fabulously rich, even rivaling the famous Almaden, of California. How this latter may be, I shall not assume to say; but the prospects are certainly flattering, and with Paulina's injection dissolved (which will doubtless take place next summer), the legitimate proprietors may realize their most sanguine anticipations.

Now discoveries in gold have also been made on the North Fork of John Day, which is creating considerable excitement at this place. The mines of Granite have been doing well this season—so I am credibly informed. The Burnt River District is in a measure unprospected, and good opportunities are offered for the location of claims.

Olive is noted for having turned out some of the largest nuggets of any camp in the north, and is destined yet to retrieve her lost reputation for prolific placers. Her gold-bearing quartz is pronounced rich, and only needs capital and enterprise to successfully demonstrate the fact.

Elk Creek, although not famous on account of her placer mines, seems, nevertheless, to bear off the palm for auriferous quartz. In the National and Great Pacific lodges, gold may be seen with the naked eye; while the Long Star assay has been as high as fifteen hundred dollars to the ton. All this information I can gather of the mines from disinterested parties, is of the most flattering nature. If any place in the north offers inducements to enterprising capitalists, this is certainly the point. A visit to these ledges by that class, would be a sufficient guarantee of profitable investment. I am neither directly nor indirectly interested in any quartz ledges in this country, further than the development of our mines, as a whole, and the consequent growth and prosperity of the country; but when I am in possession of certain information, which, if made public, would be beneficial to the State, as well as individuals, I deem it well enough to give publicity to the same.

Dixie, although pronounced "spotted" by the pioneer miners of this place is, nevertheless, assuming an air or prosperity unrivalled by any other camp in the county. New discoveries in the hills and gulches adjacent, are of weekly occurrence, and some which "strikes" the result. Near the source of this creek is a rich copper ledge which is said to yield fifty per cent. pure copper. It was purchased some time since by Ferguson of Canyon City, who is now in San Francisco with specimens of the ore. With the completion of new ditches now under contemplation, this camp will rank among the First in Eastern Oregon. The miners of Marysville district having adopted the hydraulic process of mining, do not employ so many laborers as formerly, although the "dividends" are greater, the value of town property is less—in fact, quite a number of buildings have been removed from Marysville to Canyon City and Dixie.

Canyon Creek, upon which Canyon City is situated, is perhaps the most extensive and remunerative of any in the county. The heavy work is performed mostly by the derrick process. A great many laborers, however, are employed at wages ranging from $4 to $4 50 per day.

John Day District includes the lower portion of Canyon Creek and the mines in the vicinity of John Day City. Some heavy deposits have been exhumed at this place, and we see no reason why others of equal richness may not lie hidden in close proximity.

What Experienced Mill Men think of the Portable Steam Saw Mills built by the Oregon Iron Works:

PORTLAND, Oct. 18th, 1866.
TO THE OREGON IRON WORKS:
Gentlemen.—The Portable Steam Saw Mill which we purchased of you last spring for Pen d'Oreille Lake, has been in operation during the past season and has more than met our expectations in its performance. With three men, we turn out from three to four thousand feet, and with five men, five thousand feet per day of ten hours; and we take pleasure in recommending these mills as the most SUBSTANTIAL, DESIRABLE AND PERFECT MILLS IN USE, and especially adapted to the wants of this country, on account of their compact form, ease of transportation and the facility with which they can be set up and put in operation. Although subjected to the most severe tests, no repairs have been required.

DRAKE'S PLANTATION BITTERS

Have been of great service in making people healthy, and keeping them so. They should be found in every household.

They give tone to the Stomach, vigor to the body, and remove dark doubts and unhappy feelings from the mind. They relieve pain and fortify the whole system against the attacks of disease.

There is nothing better to take "for the Stomach's sake" than the PLANTATION BITTERS.

They cure Dyspepsia, Heartburn, Indigestion, Drowsiness, Headache, Pain in the Side, Liver Complaint, and Rheumatic Pains, with magical power.

A good effect is felt at once upon making the first trial. No change of diet is necessary. Eat the best you can get and all you want. Follow our directions and you will soon feel

WELL, STRONG AND HEARTY.

A great many side hits are being made at the Plantation Bitters, by a score or two of disinterested friends who have endeavored to imitate or counterfeit them. It's all of no use. The people won't be imposed upon. The Plantation Bitters are increasing in use and popularity every day, and "that's what's the matter." They are the same sized bottle, and made just as they were at first, and will continue to be, or we shall stop making them.

They purify, strengthen and invigorate.
They create a healthy appetite.
They are an antidote to change of water and diet.
They overcome effects of dissipation and late hours.
They strengthen the system and enliven the mind.
They prevent miasmatic and intermittent fevers.
They purify the breath and acidity of the stomach.
They cure Dyspepsia and Constipation.
They cure Diarrhœa, Cholera and Cholera Morbus.
They cure Liver Complaint and Nervous Headache.
They are the best Bitters in the world. They make the weak strong, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. The Recipe and full Circular are around each bottle. Clergymen, Merchants, and persons whose sedentary habits induce weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, liver complaint, constipation, &c., will find immediate and permanent relief in these Bitters. But above all, they are recommended to weak and delicate females and mothers.

They are sold by all respectable merchants. See that each bottle has our private United States Stamp over the cork and steel-plate side label.

Beware of refilled bottles. See that the stamp has not been tampered with. Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters by the gallon is a swindler and imposter, and should be immediately reported to us.

Mustang Liniment.

OVER A MILLION DOLLARS SAVED!

Gentlemen:—"I had a negro man worth $1,200 who took cold from a bad hurt in the leg, and was useless for over a year. I had used everything I could hear of without benefit, until I tried the Mexican Mustang Liniment. It soon effected a permanent cure."
J. L. DOWNING.
Montgomery, Ala., June 17, 1859.

"I take pleasure in recommending the Mexican Mustang Liniment as a valuable and indispensable article for Sprains, Sores, Scratches or Galls on Horses. Our men have used it for Burns, Bruises, Sores, Rheumatism, &c., and all say it acts like magic."
J. W. HEWELL,
Foreman American, Wells, Fargo's and Harnden's, Express.

"The sprain of my daughter's ankle, occasioned while skating last winter, was entirely cured in one week, after she commenced using your celebrated Mustang Liniment."
Gloucester, Mass., Aug. 1, 1865. ED. SEELY.

It is an admitted fact that the Mexican Mustang Liniment performs more cures in shorter time, on man at least, than any article ever discovered. Families, liverymen and planters should always have it on hand. Quicksand sure it certainly is. All genuine is wrapped in steel-plate engravings, bearing U. S. Stamp of DEMAS BARNES & Co. over the top.

An effort has been made to counterfeit it with a cheap stone-plate label. Look closely!

Lyon's Katharion.

It is a most delightful Hair Dressing.
It eradicates scurf and dandruff.
It keeps the head cool and clean.
It makes the hair rich, soft and glossy.
It prevents hair turning gray and falling off.
It restores hair upon prematurely bald Heads.
This is just what Lyon's Kathairon will do. It is pretty—it is cheap—durable. It is literally sold by the carload, and yet its almost incredible demand is daily increasing, until there is hardly a country store that does not keep it, or a family that does not use it.
E. THOMAS LYON, Chemist, N. Y.

Lyon's Extract Ginger.

LYON'S EXTRACT OF PURE JAMAICA GINGER—for Indigestion, Nausea, Heartburn, Sick Headache, Cholera Morbus, Flatulency, &c., where a warming stimulant is required. Its careful preparation and entire purity makes a cheap and reliable article for culinary purposes. Sold everywhere at 50 cents per bottle. Ask for "Lyon's" PURE EXTRACT. Take no other.
CAUTION—See that the private U. S. Stamp of Demas, Barnes & Co. is over cork of each bottle. None other is genuine.

Lyon's Flea Powder.

DEATH TO FLEAS.—It is well known that Lyon's genuine Magnetic Powder will perfectly destroy everything in the shape of fleas, ticks, bed-bugs, roaches, &c.; that it is perfect poison to the insect tribe, but entirely harmless to the human species and domestic animals. The genuine has the signature of E. LYON, and the private stamp of DEMAS BARNES & Co. Anything else of this kind is an imitation or counterfeit. Any druggist will procure the genuine if you insist you will have no other

G. VENARD.
CHARTRES COFFEE!
Manufactory Established in June, 1831.
STEAM POWER, NOS. 625 AND 627 FRONT ST.
HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.
The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commends here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion all consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.
BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.

When the Leaves are Turning Brown

Never is my heart so gay
In the budding month of May,
Never does it beat a tune
Half so sweet in bloomy June
Never known such happy days
As on such a day as this
When October dresses crowds
And the leaves are turning brown

Breathe sweet chilliness and regrets
For the vanish'd violets
Long ago in very the dell
Of the gallon summer lights
Never in the summer I ours
Oh my way so radiant so flowers
As from heaven falls a fairdown
When the leaves are turning brown!

Real young grapes fresh eggy
Children in the bloom of life
Poesy, sunchay in young June,
Maidens they will fade full soon
Twine ripe roses July red,
Lovers for the dear one's head
I will weave my richest crown
When the leaves are turning brown!

Fearful Gale on the Atlantic—The Arago in a Cyclone.

Cassidy, of the Albany Argus who arrived from Europe in the Arago, on Saturday, October 13th thus graphically describes a furious storm with which the steamer had to battle

We were six days out when a cyclone caught us under one of its wings and sent us whirling The constant wind had raised the sea into full motion before the gale came on, which lasted 3 anto rage If we had contended face to face with it, we would have caught some severe blows, but our Captain put the vessel into the trough of the sea and though she rocked fearfully, she rode safe and moved apace on her course As we labored in this valley of waters the whole ocean in the horizon lifted itself up, and above its level rose the ascending wave to fall again and rise again on the other side. We hung and swayed like a pendulum There was a Niagara on each side of us, and another pouring its green waters and scattering its spray at our stern There was a fascination in the scene, which the slight ingredient of danger perhaps added to Fortunately it lasted only about twelve hours, though when the wind abated the sea still rolled and the ship labored in her course. All next day the vessel tossed and pitched, and the bright sun, which had lightened the ocean, disappeared This ram drove us into our cabins, and the day was one of discomfort, till the night rocked us in our uneasy cradle to unpleasant dreams We were waked in the morning by the cry of "a man overboard" A sailor had been washed from the forward, where he had been at work A heavy wave dashed him and his companion from their feet. The elder had saved himself, falling across the spar, while this poor fellow fell overboard, the lurch of the vessel pitching him far off, so that he was swept away to windward of the wheel, fast upon his fatal course At the cry the engine was stopped, the officer at the stern threw overboard, two life-preservers either of which, had he caught it would have insured his safety The small boat was lowered in two minutes, and, though it was a hazardous attempt in that tumultuous sea, a crew was there and the second officer bareheaded, took command Captain Gadsden, up in the shrouds, watched the retreating form and gave orders and signals for the rescue. It was in vain! Working in the rain and wind, the sailor had put on his sou wester and his heavy boots, and these bore him down I saw the sailors return from their fruitless search They silently drew up the boat returned each thing to its place and returned to their allotted tasks Few words were said, and no loud lamentations, no mournings heard They felt it, for the incident was brought close home to them; but each man had his day's work to do and his indispensable duty to fulfill, and he set about it, mutely, but diligently.

I had noticed the young fellow on the Sunday previous, as I went forward to the bow to measure the rise and fall of the vessel He lay coiled up in the corner of the bow, absorbed in reading a book His young effeminate face, and almost beardless chin, his bright sympathetic look, and his absorption in the volume before him attracted my attention by the contrast it offered to the rough and sensual sailor of twenty years ago He had a young wife and child in New York, and in the morning watch before the accident had banteringly told his companions how they should behave to a wife, should they ever have the luck to get one What agony of despair, what hopeless aspired to safety, only to be mocked in death, passed through that mind, who can imagine? We subscribed the widow some 1,500 francs in gold among the passengers, which the sailors raised to 2,000. It was little, less than nothing, when we thought of the poor mother coming to the ship'aside, when we reached port, to show the child to its father, and looking for him in vain

The day passed silently and sadly. The south east wind gave us rain, and once or twice a little flurry of snow—a phenomenon which had preceded the gale of Tuesday. We had two or three sea captains on board, who, as well as our own commander, saw mischief in the aspect of the heavens. The barometer fell suddenly an inch or more. "If there is not a storm, and a rousing one," said one of them, "there is no use for a barometer, and you had better throw it over board." But the barometer was right in its warning, and the wind, which by this time had nearly boxed the whole compass, veered to the north west, and came upon us with the suddenness of a simoon The little sail we were under was taken in in time It came on, as the sailors say, "dead ends foremost," and for four hours the Arago went through a tempest such as it had never before encountered The roll, as she was put in the trough of the sea, was bad enough, but once in a while she encountered a sea that shook the vessel and made every timber in her strong frame tremble and quiver It was dark The wind, which in the previous gale had sung through the shrouds, sounding like plaintive cries in the distance calling for help, now shrieked angrily and in hoarse threats The darkness was absolute, and the waves broke against the sides of the vessel, the air was filled with the scattered waters—the "spoon-drift," as it is called—and one could not see across the vessel Waves do not rise mountain high, except in newspaper paragraphs and nautical novels written by landsmen The highest unbroken waves we estimated from twenty five to thirty feet in hight But when they dash against the sides or bow, the top breaks off, and surges over wheelhouse and bridge, and over smoke-stack, and falling, sweeps along the deck, whole hogsheads full at once The weight, too, is immense, and when a long and heavy wave strikes broadside against the vessel, it is as if a hammer of a hundred tons had been let drive at it shaken iron works, and snaps asunder the strongest bands of steel Luckily, the storm was brief, and did its worst in the beginning. If it had been protracted much longer, the ship could not have stood it. As it was, hardly a pound's worth of damage was done. The steps on the wheelhouse were torn off by an ascending wave Some iron bolts that held the boats were snapped asunder. One of our second class passengers, tossed across the deck, had his ribs broken, but with these exceptions, we rode out the storm triumphantly The passengers were variously affected; but on the whole behaved admirably, particularly the ladies They were earnest and anxious, but silent and absorbed One or two gentlemen put on the preservers One or two boisterous fellows, whom we had mistaken for darodevils took to frantic lamentation and prayer One of our Hebrew brethren took to the same direction

Many of the passengers watched all night, refusing to go to their berths Many lay down ready dressed Some went to their repose as usual, and were rocked asleep by the storm, and were rewarded for their trust by a more tranquil morning Gradually the great heart of nature eased its labored pulsations, and grew calm The storm sobbed itself into silence, and on Sunday morning the ocean looked up like a babe, tearful but smiling, in the face of the friendly sky

SINGULAR DEATH AND RESURRECTION —The following remarkable case is from the Albany Knickerbocker, of Oct 3d

Night before last a child of Wm Wells, residing in the town of Bethlehem, a short distance from the city, died rather suddenly, as the family supposed, from an attack of diarrhœa To all appearances the child was dead and it was accordingly prepared for the grave and actually laid in the coffin The coffin containing the body was placed in the front room after having been thus arranged and the family retired The funeral was to take place yesterday During the night, however, Mr Wells heard a noise in the front room and supposed it was the cat or dog that had got in there He went in to drive it out Imagine his surprise to find the body of the child turned in the coffin He raised it up and the little thing opened its eyes looked up and commenced crying Life, animated life was there The father's heart leaped with joy the mother again clasped her child to her bosom The physician was sent for and the whole neighborhood were soon aroused Nourishments were administered, and the child yesterday was doing well

There are some people so much disposed to be little the President that they would make him appear a mere pigmy This is greatly to be regretted, but Mr Johnson may console himself with the reflection that the mass of his countrymen cheerfully admit that he is usually animated by a spirit which entitles him to rank among the Titans rather than the Pigmies

Famine in India

GREAT DISTRESS THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY—THE THE INHABITANTS PERISHING BY THOUSANDS—400 DEAD BODIES PICKED UP ONE MORNING AT BALASORE

[From the London Times]

CALCUTTA Aug 16 1866

There are sights to be witnessed in Calcutta which would lead the stranger to believe that the city was perishing from famine and pestilence Since the fine rain has been allowed to attain such its known proportions in the rural districts it is inundating the capital All who can crawl from the interior from the affected subdivision of Jedanabad in the rich country of Hoogly and the misery of what was once the flourishing and go district of Nuddea as well as from the more wretched Midnapore and distant Orissa flock to the charities of Calcutta They would receive food at their own homes but they hear that they will get more at Calcutta, and clothes as well and so at the present moment no less than 250 famine-stricken wretches a day seek annachuttras or Bengalee feeding houses of the native quarter of Calcutta. So late as the 9th of July last the Bengal Government a second time refused to encourage the formation of a public relief committee and soon retired again to the hills But the city was being so crowded with paupers a pestilence was so imminent that the Municipal Commissioner Stuart Hogg, and one or two merchants organized a committee and on Monday last a public meeting of all classes was held in the town hall to raise subscriptions Judges, merchants barristers chaplains and semidars urged the claims of the starving, and eulogized the charity of the native gentlemen, who had already done so much with an eloquence hardly required, but quite justified Official reports were read giving statistics which completed to date show that at 22 places 17,476 pour are daily fed, in addition to the sick in the hospitals, and as the number is increasing by about 250 a day, it may be said that 20,000 starvelings are now subsisting on charity daily in Calcutta A sum of £1,0,000 is required to grapple with the misery, and of this, within four days of the meeting being held, more than one half has been subscribed

The most important work the new committee have to do is to organize a system of relief The natives hitherto have done as much evil as good by feeding who apply indiscriminately so that the many professional beggars and rascals of the great city and the vicinity too often exclude the deserving, and by giving the food at different times so that bands of scoundrels have been in the habit of wandering from relief station to relief station in the same day Recently 32 weak, famine stricken wretches were trampled to death in the rush of those lusty idlers for food The public committee has arranged that tickets shall be given only to the deserving, that none but ticket-holders shall be fed, and that all must be fed at one hour throughout the city None will be allowed to sleep, as in the public sheds contracted to accommodate 10,000 and in the paper camp outside the city except those who have tickets As many poor as can be induced to go will be sent back to their homes to be relieved there, and influx will be arrested by establishing relief outposts at such places as Gollabarra, the ferry on the Hooghly, by which hundreds flock from Midnapore and Orissa A relief agent was sent there, and this is his tale On landing from the boat at sunrise, the first object that he saw was an aged ry woman in a ghastly state of emaciation, lying hopelessly doubled up on the wet ground at the roadside, where she had apparently passed the night This was in the midst of a crowded bazaar Further on lay another woman and child in the state. Near them lay the ghastly like figure of a man worn to the bone, naked and stiff, lying in a puddle About to pass it by as a corpse the agent discovered one spark of life still left, found there was no doctor nearer than How call, several miles away, and had all these cases moved into a hut The native Police Inspector and his men looked on with stolid indifference While sago was being prepared for the poor wretches who were too far gone to eat rice the man died, and from another part of the road a woman began that piercing shrill Oriental wail for her boy of eight, who had just breathed his last It is so common for eight or ten to die daily in the streets of this village that no one takes notice You will have a more vivid idea of the state of the poor in Calcutta than even the fact that 20 000 are daily fed by charity, when I say that the number of pauper bodies buried at one ghaut alone rose from 50—at which it stood last year—to 329 in the first nine days of this month On the 10th there were 2,723 live male and female patients in the different hospitals of Calcutta, of whom 887 were indoor, against 1,840 on the same date last year, of whom only 300 were indoor

Now, if this is the case in Calcutta, which has no famine or scarcity of its own, what must be the state of things in Orissa? One of the journals has addressed a series of questions to the senior missionary of Cuttack, which does not suffer more than Pooree, and very much less than Balasore. To a question as to the action of Government, he replies "The early utterances of the Board of Revenue furnished melancholly evidence that the depth and extent of the calamity were wholly unappreciated. Any representations as to the calamity being comparatively slight or confined within narrow limits are wholly contrary to fact We were surprised at weeks and months passed and no movement was originated by the proper authorities" To the question whether relief penetrates into the interior from the station, he says it does not "to the extent that it is desirable," although all the officials and non officials work with praiseworthy energy Where there are relief centres the entirely destitute are cared for, but the large and important class who are not paupers yet cannot buy rice at three pounds, four pounds and five pounds a shilling, are neglected The price of Government rice should be so low as to meet their case, but this authority tells us it ought to be sold at six pounds instead of five pounds a shilling, and as its dearness was a cause of dispute between the official and non-official members of the committee This leanness he terms 'the principal defect in the Government relief" The mortality from famine and cholera he describes as of 'frightful magnitude,' as "much greater than has generally been supposed" And there are still 'four long dark months" before the province Government is making over the many orphans to the missionaries' care This is said of Cuttack, but I am told by a high official, who has just returned from Balasore where he assisted the Relief Committee, that language would fail to describe the state of things there a few weeks ago Think of 900 dead bodies being picked up in the street of Balasore in one morning Yet this happened he assured me Half the truth has never been told and as there is no Board Smith there, will never be reported The last return from Balasore shows 793 deaths in that one little station in the week ending July 21, and if you treble that number for the many who become the food of the jackal and the vulture in the lonely jungle or ditch, you will not go beyond the sad truth It is ominous that the Board of Revenue have ceased to report deaths

TRINITY CHURCH TROUBLE—ALLEGED HEAVY DEFALCATION —A New York letter says "The startling exhibition of the financial affairs of Trinity Church by which a heavy defalcation involving several millions of dollars, has been discovered—perpetrated by whom is kept a profound secret from the public—and the legal movements of the heirs of Anneke Jane to recover the vast estate unjustly withheld from them, has created an intense sensation Gotham loves a sensation and she has received a new one now, from a source little expected In the significant array of facts presented by the heirs of Anneke Jane a wife spread commotion among the wealthy band who have charge of the property has been created Most of the descendants of this worthy Dutch lady reside in New Jersey Thirty years ago the same claims were presented for the first time, but the matter was compromised in some way by the trustees of the church on the payment of a good round sum and the claim was not pressed Since the descendants of those heirs have grown to man and woman's estate, they have ferreted out more important papers bearing upon their right to possess the property and, if common report speaks truly can they be proved genuine, they will be able to dispossess the church of two-thirds of its landed estate and such improvements thereon as may attach to it Anneke Jane it seems owned the now valuable land held by the church below Canal street, extending in detached pieces, to Bowling Green on Broadway east to Front street and west to the North river Some portions of this she sold, devised and in bequeathed but that which is held by the Trinity Corporation she merely leased to it for a number of years—ninety nine it is said—which time has long since expired The lawyers are rubbing their hands at the rich pickings which are likely to grow out of the controversy

TROOPS IN CANADA —The Thirteenth Hussars a detachment of which has just arrived in Canada from England is a veteran regiment of ancient renown On its colors are inscribed the names Peninsula," "Waterloo, Alma," "Inkerman 'Balaklava' and "Sebastopol" There are four hundred and eighty men and three hundred and five horses in the detachment The men had a rough passage from England and many of the horses died on the way There are now about twelve thousand regular troops in Canada and the volunteer force is set down at thirty five thousand

Speech by Henry Ward Beecher

NEW YORK, Oct 10 —The speech of Rev Henry Ward Beecher at the Brooklyn meeting last night attracts general attention In opening his speech Beecher laid down the following as the things necessary to be done in reconstruction, the Union

First—The utter destruction of slavery root and branch which has been the fundamental cause of national discontent and war

Second—The purgation of the Constitution of all influences derived from slavery and the purgation of the laws and civil courts of all cast me and proceedings derived from slavery or infected with it

Third—The readjustment of the relation of States being in the condition of suspended animation

Fourth—The security the education and the enfranchisement of the negro population but only now made free

Fifth—The re-establishment of good will and cordiality among alienated citizens the revival of the settlement of unity in national life the renewal of enterprise, industry and commerce, which like the circulation of the blood in the body places the whole nation under the influence of one common central vital life

Some might be inclined perhaps to add a sixth head to the duties of to day namely our foreign relations and their adjustment, but as long as we are at peace at home we have no foreign relations At a later stage he said But I have great faith in the honor and the good intention of the South and I am not ashamed to say that my heart goes out to them, I am not ashamed when ten years shall have passed away to have it understood that there was one man here and he an Abolitionist of the darkest dye who, after the war was all over, had a yearning for that part of the country also and who was sorry for their sorrows and their mistakes and who although indignant at their crimes and as eager as any one to vindicate judgment and Government during the war yet yearned at its close for their restoration as a part of the Union, and believed every honorable man's name and intention was pledged them in that matter not that he would leave reatoration to be accomplished without law, but that he would so surround the necessary legal enactments with testimonies of sympathy and kindness as to make in the South a beginning of that public sentiment which maintains and keeps in operation all having laws This is my faith and my heresy '

Beecher closed by expressing his belief in the success of radical principles in the North in the coming elections with a volume in vastness and a decisiveness that shall admit of no misunderstanding, and that when, they who represent the people again take their places, it shall be with all the North behind them and indorsing them

NEW SYSTEM OF TRAVEL —The San Francisco Bulletin of a late date refers to a change which is being effected by the merchants of that city in relation to the trade of the interior As it concerns also our trade, we give an extract

"One effect of the adoption of the note system in this city, as hinted in a communication published in the Bulletin yesterday, will be to induce small country dealers to buy their supplies from the interior cities—such as Sacramento Stockton Marysville etc , in our State Virginia in Nevada and Portland in Oregon This is one of the results the jobbers wish to bring about. They desire to concentrate their trade, to prune it of all its loose and illegitimate characteristics, and thus to strengthen and build up their business Hitherto the small dealers of the country have been in the habit of ordering a large portion of their supplies direct from this city, from day to day and have the same charged to account At the same time doubtless many of them have run up similar accounts with the interior city jobbers In the event of any embarrassment on the part of these small dealers, all will see at once that the interior city jobbers have a decided advantage over our merchants in securing themselves on account of their proximity to and familiarity with the trade of their mutual customers Hence it is for the interest of our jobbers to surrender the entire trade of these country retailers to the jobbers of the interior cities who are from their peculiar circumstances, better able to judge whom and how much to trust This is the prevailing practice in the Atlantic States The country dealers there buy from the large cities nearest to them or, if at times they visit the seaboard, they expect to pay cash for whatever they order Such a practice must eventually prevail on the Pacific coast and efforts looking to its inauguration we believe, are already contemplated

FROM NEW YORK TO LONDON IN A BOAT —Captain Hudson, of the two-and a-half ton boat Red White and Blue, publishes the following account of his voyage across the ocean,

On the 18th day of June nine days out, latitude 40 degrees 31 minutes north, longitude 56 degrees west, at midnight the boat struck some thing very solid a gleaming blow on the port bow All sail was set and the shock of the blow was severe, and stopped the vessel a headway It was found that she had not sustained any damage After the 15th no sail was sighted until the 4th of August, and they then spoke and went alongside the bark Princess Royal, of Yarmouth, seven days from Dublin for Quebec, and received from here a bottle of rum two newspapers and a signal lamp On the 5th a sea came up on the port quarter, which threw the vessel on her beam ends She righted in half a minute On the 8th she was again thrown on her beam ends, and got back by taking in all sail. August 13, spoke the American bark Bette Merryman two days from Havre for New York, and got two bottles of brandy, 14th, twenty seven miles off Usbant, shipped a heavy sea, which threw the vessel for the fourth time on her beam ends, filling her cabin and cock pit, cleared the vessel by bailing At noon on the 14th she made the first English land, the Bill of Portland, bearing N ½ W, about twenty miles distant. On the 16th, blowing heavy W S W, and being unable to carry any sail, got towed into Margate There was no chronometer on board, and the vessel was worked by dead reckoning The master and mate kept watch during the perilous and tedious voyage Owing to the heavy seas that were running they had little opportunity of warming their provisions which were in cases They had one hundred and twenty gallons of water on board, but did not consume it all

TENNESSEE —Horace Maynard is reported to have remarked the day after the election, to a gentleman, that he was of the opinion that the result of the elections would have a tendency to modify the President's feelings, and that he had confidence that henceforth Congress and the President would get along harmoniously Governor Brownlow, who was sitting near was asked his opinion He said he differed maternally with Maynard He knew Johnson well, had fought him forty years, and he believed he would go on until he would be hanged

SENATOR SPRAGUE —Judging by the following item from a New York paper of October 17th, the report of a threatened divorce between Senator Sprague and his wife is probably incorrect

Senator Sprague, of Rhode Island upon his return from the Rocky Mountain expedition with General Sherman and others, sailed for Europe to join Mrs Sprague, who is touring on the continent
